

When you're a world leader in

hip

and knee replacements,
you don't locate your business in just any ol' joint.

Biommet Incorporated has been heralded by publications like Forbes and Fortune as one of the most innovative and progressively managed companies in the nation — attributes that have established it as a world leader in orthopedic reconstructive devices. It just so happens this high-tech company was founded and is flourishing in a progressive-thinking state — Indiana. Coincidence? We don't think so.

Low taxes, global connections, a skilled workforce and a great lifestyle are just a few of our business attractions. When it comes to location, Indiana's a natural. And who would know that better than Biomet?
